Dear Mrs. Stuff,

This morning I succeeded in securing a Christmas film for Saturday morning, December 22. It's a  $\frac{1}{2}$  hour film, but we have some recorded Christmas stories which we plan to use in connection with the film. What I have in mind is to show it there in Le Claire in the Library on Saturday morning at 10:00 for a story hour. We could work up a program of 1 hour's length. How does that sound to you?

Under separate cover we are mailing you Dickens' CHRISTMAS CAROL and some other Christmas books along with some book jackets.

Have noted your request for mystery stories for the next collection - which I still can't seem to set a date for changing, but we'll get there!

Corsette Fogleson's address is: 306 $\frac{1}{2}$  E. Green, Champaign, Illinois.

Will you please send me the price of the oil stove you had to buy for the library and a copy of the bill if possible. We'll see what we can do about buying it for the library. It would then, of course, be library. How large is the oil container? When you buy oil for it, get a bill and send it to me. In other words charge it to the Scott County Library. I've not been authorized to do this, but I'm taking it up at the board meeting this Thursday, and I doubt that you'll have to buy any before I can let you know for sure. Just thought I'd give you a little hope.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth B. Hage
